CENSUS SUPERVISORS.

And Other Interesting News From the National Capital.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, June 17.—There is considerable discontent among both the republicans and democrats of Virginia, over the apportionment of census supervisors of the state. The leader of the two political parties arranged the division, which gives five supervisors to each. The republicans are especially disappointed because the director of the census has arranged for a division of the enumerators, as well as supervisors, giving the democrats one half of the appointments It was thought that the second district would be given a republican supervisor, and the fact that a democrat will be appointed in that district has occasioned much surprise and disappointment among the leaders in that district, and is regarded by some as a slap at Dr. Wise, who is contesting for the seat of congressman elect Young.

The discontent among the democratic congressmen is much more apparent. It has transpired that the arrargement of the districts leaves the anti-Martin faction entirely out of consideration. Every single district in the state of Virginia represented by a member favorable to the election of United States senators by a popular vote, is given a republican supervisor. The first district, which is regarded as the strongest democratic district in the state, represented by Col. Jones, who has been in the national house of representatives longer than any other member of the delegation, having served continuously since the fifty-second congress, is given a republican supervisor. The same is true of Col. Rixey's district.

Director Merriam's course in recognizing the democrats in the appointments of supervisors, enumerators, and persons to the clerical force, is commended by democratic leaders. There is every indication that, so far as the influence of the director of the census can control, the management of the 12th census will be free from political scandals which have in the past marked the taking of the census of the United States.

Railroad Commissioner Wilborn, of South Carolina, has just returned home from a visit to this city. He was in the city for the purpose of conferring with the officials of the Southern railroad about getting a reduction of the freight on coal for the mills in the south. The railroad officials received the commissioner, and the delegation accompanying him, and assured them that their request would receive careful consideration.

It is said that the state of North Carolina will be given quite a number of clerkships in the census bureau. The state will be entitled to about sixty appointments. It is said that several democrats in the state will be given appointments. It is also thought that a few democratic enumerators will be employed. It is not thought, however, that there will be a division of the supervisors.

The director of the census has accepted an offer for the erection of a building for the use of the census force. The building will be erected at cost of between $100,000, and $125,000 and will be located on B street, between first and second, N. W. The government will lease it for five years and a half, at a rental of $25,000 per year. The building will be erected by Hon. Mathew C. Emory, former mayor of the city of Washington, in the days when the capital city boasted of free and independent institutions. He is now president of the first national bank of this city.

Star service change has been ordered by the postoffice department in North Carolina as follows: Franklin to Bryson City, Supply Leatherman at site authorized May 16th, '99, without change in distance.

Rev. Theron H. Rice, formerly of Alexandria City, and well known in this city, but now of Atlanta, Georgia, has received from Davidson College, North Carolina, the degree of D. D.

Mrs Ruth Y. Stuart and her two daughters, the Misses Roberta and Ruth who have been spending a few weeks in this section, have left for North Carolina where they will spend the summer season.

Gay Picnickers.

Quite a party of South Greensboro people spent yesterday at Boone's pond, eight miles east of town, picnicking. They went out in private buggies and hacks and report a most pleasant day, but as to their success with the hook, we did not learn. About twenty-five were in the party.

Boone's pond is said to be a delightful place at which to spend a day of rest and recreation and is a favorite resort for fishermen.

THE BENBOW DESTROYED,

Greensboro's Handsomest Hotel Goes Up In Smoke.

NOT A CENT OF INSURANCE.

The Loss To Greensboro Is Great, But The Lesson Taught Will Be Beneficial.

Like an old ruined castle, stand the blackened walls of one of Greensboro's finest buildings. Brooks of water gush down the beautiful stairways, and on the marble floors of the elegant offices ashes and burnt chunks float on knee-deep water.

Today at 12:20 p. m. the alarm of fire was sounded, and almost instantly the cry was borne on the wind from a hundred lips that the Benbow House, one of the finest hotels in the state, was in flames.

The cry was taken up by everybody upon the streets, and soon black, curling volumes of smoke, split with lurid tongues of fire, were seen issuing from the top, southern windows of the handsome Benbow House.

People began rushing to the scene from all over the city.

The local fire detartment was soon out in full force, but owing to the elevation and to the fact that the steamer soon broke down, the streams of water failed by far to reach the location of the fire, which was in the fifth story.

Faces blanched with acute pain as they witnessed the heroic work to save the elegant structure, but the fire was deep-seated on the top floor, and the cruel flames burst through the roof and the windows quickly.

Winston was wired at once for help, while Danville and other cities were asked to hold assistance in readiness.

It was quickly found that the water pressure was too weak to force the streams to reach the top of the house. With the aid of their ladders the firemen reached the roof and carried their hose with them, but by this time the flames had made too much headway to be checked. But the firemen stuck to their posts heroically, and the only hope was now to save as much of the effects of the hotel as possible.

The greatest excitement prevailed, and had not the air been so still the whole block must have been destroyed.

People began throwing furniture and furnishings from the windows on every side, and a small army were occupied in taking care of the property.

There were many narrow escapes but so far as we learned no serious accidents happened.

South Elm street was packed with humanity of all colors, shapes and sizes, and the police were kept busy forcing the crowds back. Thousands of people pressed against the ropes that were stretched, and accidents were narrowly averted on several occasions.

At about 2 o'clock the Winston companies had arrived and with their strong streams playing the flames were gotten under control.

The excellent equipment of the Winston-Salem engines was commendably spoken of. They had no difficulty in hurling great jets of water over the top of the building.

At about two o'clock the falling cornices and pieces of slate roofing, chunks of fire, burning window sashes, etc, forced the abandonment of the building, and only the firemen remained to fight the flames.

LOSSES.

There was not a cent of insurance upon the hotel. Capt. J. B. Fisher, who is the owner, left here this morning for Asheboro. He bought the hotel in 1892, for $50,000, since when a great many improvements have been made. The loss will be heavy. The loss is estimated at from $35,000 to $50,000.

It is thought that while the loss of the Benbow is an irreparable blow to Greensboro, that the result will be beneficial in that our people will see the need of better water works, etc., and that the bond issue will be assured.

The losses of the differents merchants and others who occupied stores on the first floor of the building have not yet been estimated, though none of them lost heavily. The fire burned so slowly that ample time was given to remove all the stock, and the flames were controlled before they could destroy the fixtures. Some loss will necessarily incur, however, from the hurried removal, and possibly a few goods were stolen. The policemen kept a steady watch and stopped several negroes who were making away with such as they could carry.

Mr. E. P. Wharton, an insurance adjuster with a reputation, was seen about 4 o'clock and asked for an estimate of the entire loss, said that the loss most probably reach $60,000 as follows: Building $30,000; furniture $15,000; personal losses and losses of merchants $15,000.

Those who removed their stock were: S. J. Kaufmann, haberdasher; Geo. H. Royster, dry goods; Mrs. Cator & Company, millinery; Mrs. M. Howard, Book Store, , Western Union Telegraph company and L. W. Wood, barber.

Messrs. Wharton & McAlister this afternoon handed J. Henry Phipps a check for $25 dollars as a small token of their appreciation for the noble work of his men.

The origin of the conflagration is not known, and the first intimation the occupants of the hotel received of the fire was from some one in the street who saw the smoke.

Greensboro needs a better water supply, and she must have it, and we need a better equipped fire department.

A large crowd of people gathered at the depot to wait for the Winston special. At about 2 the train was sighted coming around the bend. Striking the straight stretch the locomotive bounded at a dizzy speed over the rails, and as she pulled up to the depot hundreds of people cheered and threw up their hats at the inspiring sight. The train of two cars was loaded with Winston Steamer No. 2, Salem Steamer "Rough and Ready," with their hose wagons.

We asked Engineer Kinyon how quick he made the trip. He responded, "Thirty-five minutes." The distance is twenty-nine miles.

Kaufmann's beautiful display of goods were torn from the shelves and saved, and the streets were literally filled with the contents of the other stores and offices nearest the doomed Benbow.

After the danger was past Mayor Taylor and Chief Phipps, of the city fire department entertained the Winston boys royally at the McAdoo House. They will return home tonight on the regular Winston train.

It is not yet known whether Capt. Fisher will rebuild upon the same spot, but we have information from a good source that a new hotel for Greensboro to cost not less than $100,000 is a tolerable certainty.

The Western Union telegraph office being a few doors distant the wires were cut and the instruments and furnishings removed, consequently the Telegram is unable to give its readers any telegraphic dispatches this afternoon.

HOT FIGHTING EXPECTED

In the Philippines Before the Filipinos Yield.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Washington, June 17—Reports received at the war department from Otis indicate that considerable more fighting may be expected in the Philippines before the insurgents accept the American terms of peace.

Aguinaldo is ruling his followers with an iron hand. The rebels have shown a tenocity of purpose that is surprising. They have persisted in fighting notwithstanding the severest losses and the most disastrous repulses. The war department officials believe the insurgents had mapped out a complete plan of attack simultaneously upon Manila and McArthur's forces at San Fernando. Lawton's advance south of Manila was evidently unexpected. He not only defeated the rebels with great loss but broke up their proposed attack. The fight reported yesterday is believed to have been a part of the plan of Aguinaldo to break through the American lines between San Fernando and Calumpit and advance upon Manila to aid in the attack upon the city which had been pre-arranged.

A MYSTERIOUS FIGHT.

Colored Fireman Hit By An Unknown White Man.

About 4 o'clock this afternoon, Henry Blount, a colored fireman, was knocked in the head with a croquet mallet, the blow being delivered by a white man, whose name is not known. The fight occurred in front of McDuffie's crockery store, the mallet being secured from a box in which a croquet set was displayed.

It seems that there were three white men conversing on the sidewalk when the negro insulted them. He was instantly layed out and fell into the hands of Policeman Stewart who carried him to Ward's drug store where Dr. Turner dressed his wounds.

Moved to the Depot.

The Western Union telegraph company office in consequence of its being stripped of its accoutrements this afternoon, will rig up an office in the new depot as early as possible, and will probably not be able to resume business at the old office for two weeks.

All our 50c ladies' neckwear reduced to 25c. With and without stock collars—all the latest styles at Kaufman's.

WALKING WITH GOD.

Its Beautiful Results Explained by Trojan.

Correspondence Telegram.

"And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him." Genesis, 5:24. We have preached to you before on Enoch, but he is a special favorite with this department, and it will not be to your detriment to study his character again and again.

He lived 65 years by himself, or rather, it so appears from the record. That is, he lived without God having any appreciable influence on his life. At the age of 65 he begat Methuselah, and it was after the birth of this son, that he became impressed, perhaps, with the doctrine, that if his children went in the right way he must set the example. So it is declared that after the birth of Methuselah he walked with God 300 years, and begat sons and daughters. And all the years of Enoch were 365. So we see that he gave up this earthly existence at a very early age compared with the ages of his contemporaries. His son Methuselah lived to the ripe old age of 969 years, and the only record made of this life is that he begat sons and daughters, and if these reached an old age most of them went down in the great deep at the time of the deluge. If we are permitted to base conclusion on inference than Enoch did more in 365 years than his son did in 969; that is he did more in the matter of a religious life. So then, the man who walks with God, even if he does die young, has accomplished more than the man who has been indifferent to his duty and lived to be a thousand. It was a dark age of the world in which Enoch lived. But he was a star in the firmament of moral darkness resting at that time on the world. And so today the man who walks with God, carrying Him into every plan of life, is he who has power for good. For there is as much darkness now as in the day of Enoch, if we compare the different advantages for knowledge of God possessed by the people of the two epochs. Men of high intellectual attainments and especially in the ministry with their high criticism are turning the people from the old paths of faith in the word of God, and leading them directly into the paths of infidelity. They have ceased themselves to be companions of God. His word does not suit them, and by their wisdom—which is foolishness with God—they have gotten unto themselves people with itching ears, ready to hear any thing from the pulpit that is not the word of God. Give us something on Tito, Maud Muller, and other characters of fiction, and away with Christ and let him be crucified. The preachers are to blame for this infidelity in the church. They no longer, as did Enoch, walk with God, and their followers are going with them direct to what used to be called hell—now hades. Hell means nothing but the grave, a dreamless sleep, and fire and brimstone is but a vapor long since passed away. The time is coming—mark the words—when the man who walks with God, the man of faith, will be the sensation and not the higher critic. The leaven of the latter is permeating the church, and after a while the whole lump, Christianity, will be affected and poisoned by it. Already as the leaven in the woman's meal, so these preachers who deny the Bible to be the word of God, or deny any part of it to be, are having their influence. Beware of the leaven of the higher critics, which is infidelity.

THE RESULT OF WALKING WITH GOD.

"He had this testimony, that he pleased God." Hebrews, 11:5. The writer has about reached the conclusion that in many sections of this so-called Christian country, heart has almost entirely gone out of religion, and, "big head," the wisdom of man, has come in as a substitute. It looks as if the Gospel had fallen into the hands of the politicians; men who desire more to entertain and please the people than to please God. That old mother who knows neither Greek nor Hebrew, but in whose Bible may be found many promises, marked "T. & P.," tried and proved, is doing more today in establishing the truth than all the critics and socalled Bible expounders in the world. The way of faith is the way to please God; and unless we walk therein, doubts and fears will be with us all the time. He had the testimony that he pleased God, not man. Blessed assurance; it should not be a difficult matter to do this. God cannot be pleased with the men who are mutilating His word. And thereby hindering the faith of many who would serve him.

We don't know where God took Enoch, and this ignorance is in no sense disturbing. We know He took him. This writer knows that life is too short for him to be engaged in speculation and picking out portions of the Scriptures that do not appear to be the truth. There is so much that is the truth, and it is only the ungodly who would attempt to persuade men out of the old paths. Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly. I shall continue to walk with God. Shall endeavor to please Him. And when strength to work has departed and the ability to write has gone from me; then, will I wait until He takes me. His way is the best and anywhere in His word it can be seen to be plainly marked. I crave for myself and for you, my reader, no higher word of commendation than this: "He walked with God." Keep on walking with Him in the way of humility, faith, trust, honesty until He takes you. Yes, it is sweet, the testimony, in ourselves, that we try daily to please Him; and in all things, without murmur to accept all that He sends, singing on the way: "All that Thou sendest me: in mercy given." Touched by our responsibility to Him let us go walking with Him and talking with Him and praising Him, until He at last shall say: "You are getting tired and your work is more than your strength can bear; come home."

APPENDICITIS CURED.

A new cure for appendicitis has been discovered in scientific New York. The deadly knife is dispensed with and the patient relieved simply by the working of a muscle against the appendix to make it eject the foreign matter.

The operation was successfully performed on a young woman by Dr. George J. Helmer, who described it to a reporter, and for the benefit of suffering humanity in general and the Danville Farrago in particular, we reproduce the plan:

"The method of treatment is the one used by all osteopathists and has been in use by them for some time."

To demonstrate, the doctor placed the thumb of the reporter's left hand flatly in the palm of his right hand. Then he slapped the palm of the hand smartly against the broad of the thumb.

"The hands represents the psoas muscle," he said, "and the thumb the appendix. We produce a spasmodic contraction of the psoas magnus, like the slapping of the palm of the hand against the thumb. This forces the soreign substance from the appendix, and relief follows immediately."

Just back of the appendix is the largest muscle in the human body, known as the psoas magnus. It is attached to the femur or big bone of the leg, and is the muscle by which one can revolve the leg as on a pivot at the heel. It is this muscle which is made to do the trick of emptying the appendix. Using the fingers of one hand to hold the walls of the abdomen in place and to prevent a rupture of the delicate internal structures, with the other hand a spasmodic contraction of the psoas magnus is brought about, which snaps it against the appendix and is said to force out of that organ whatever of foreign substances it may contain.

The hair of a dog is said to be a cure for the bite, etc. Right at its own door the vermiform fiend finds a conquering foe, and we trust that the true mission of the upper end of the psoas magnus has been discovered.

The blue-pencil man at Manila doubtless feels like the fellow who unwittingly turned a bird loose.

Admiral Sampson says that the great need of the navy is more ships like the New York, his flagship.

And less commanders like himself.

The peace conference has another month's work ahead of it with the knowledge that it is impossible to accomplish anything. This is literally killing time.—Durham Herald.

Yes, its killing time. Whom shall we start in with?

A different light is put upon the result of the past week's fighting in Cavite province by Gen. Otis' reports to Washington. The enemy is said to have lost in killed, wounded and captured, 1,500 men, more than one-third of his force. The blow the Filipinos received was out of all proportion to the small American loss, yet this fact does not atone for the loss of the American boys. The ranks of the insurgent army can easily be filled—in fact the Filipino government has more men than anything else.

Easy to Put on---Easy to Take off

There's "a something" about our clothes to measure that you don't find in others—they slip on easy, they slip off easy—and most important, they fit. Let us make your next suit—put it on, walk down street with it, people will look after you and admire it. Tell your friends that you paid only $15 or $20 for it and they won't believe it. Don't seem credible. Tell them it cost anywhere from $25 to $40—they'll believe that, while your pocketbook has at least $10 the best of it. Tell your friends about our famous $3 trousers and our wonderful $15 Serge Suits to order.

The famous little pills.

Pandora, so runs the myth, let all the ills of life out of her box to prey upon mankind, but shut the cover soon enough to prevent the escape of hope. Hope remains to every sufferer but it is only an ignis-fatuus unless it takes on some tangible form. The hope of recovery is treasured by every one who suffers from weak or bleeding lungs, obstinate and lingering cough, bronchitis or similar ailments, which, if neglected, or unskilfully treated lead on to consumption. That hope becomes a practical and tangible thing when it is based on the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Such a hope is reasonable because thousands of men and women emaciated and weakened by disease have been made sound and well by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

Sick people are invited to consult Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter. All letters are carefully and considerately read and answered. Each letter is held as a sacred confidence and every answer is mailed in a plain envelope without any printing upon it. Write without fear and without fee.

"I was taken sick in July last year, and was not able to do any kind of work until November," writes Mr. Noel W. Orvin, of Langley, Aiken Co., S. C. "Had been coughing up small, hard lumps of phlegm for about a year before I was taken down. I then called on a doctor, who attended me for two months, and said that one-half of my left lung was gone, and advised me to leave my home (Charleston, S.C.), and go to the country, but did not say what sort of disease I had. I thought it was consumption, and wrote to you for advice. I took four bottles of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I sincerely believe has done me more good than all the other medicines I have ever taken."

The excursion was run by the Sunday Schools, of different denominations, of East and West Durham and Durham proper. Several people went from here. The crowd will pass through on the return trip tonight.

Almost all of the schools are now closing with a commencement.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the houses. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.
I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.
MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

Discord!

Cape Discord, off the coast of Greenland, is said to be sinking into the sea. It may be possible that some seal hunting native may step in with it and suddenly find himself like Jonah of old, scrambling around in the interior of a big whale. Result: Discord and discontent.

"PATIENCE" LAST NIGHT.

The Presentation Most Creditable—A Strong Cast.

Last night at the Academy of Music the musical drama, "Patience," under the superintendence of Prof. Clarence R. Brown, was presented to a full house very successfully.

The cast had in its composition about forty of the best known and most cultured young women and men of the city.

Space forbids our entering upon an elaborate critique of Patience. It is a musical comedy-drama, a sort of satire on aestheticism. While the plot is strong, it is a most difficult piece with which to entertain an audience for three hours, requiring fine portrayal and ingenious interpretation. But the excellent talent of the cast atoned for the degree of dryness, and the audience were kept in a state of delight throughout the performance.

Professor Clarence Brown, who took the part of leading man, and Miss Hattie Watlington, that of Patience, the leading lady, played their roles to perfection

The play was excellently presented, and all the players performed their assignments very creditably.

A Musical Lawn Party.

To the people who are lovers of good music and a plenty of it will enjoy a night at the "Gate City Lawn Party" on the Eckle lawn June 27th. One of the most novel features will be given on this occasion that has ever been witnessed at any lawn party in the city. It will be published later. Watch the papers and by all means remember the date—Tuesday night, June 27th.

TERRIBLE VENGEANCE VOWED.

Horrible Execution of the Ham Thief Nightly Expected.

The ham thief, that dreadful, niggardly intruder, continues his nocturnal prowls. In the dead of a recent night he called at a house on Gorrell street and stole not only the ham, but also a quantity of root beer and a number of jars of the slumbering family's sweetest preserves. So smoothly was the work done that the family knew not of his untimely visit until the next morning.

But this is the straw that broke the camel's back. The women of that community have vowed vengeance and, with the women against him, the monster cannot prevail. We expect soon to chronicle the terrible but just death of the brute, whether he be human or not, who has so long terrified the citizens and baffled the police
